

AMY BARTELL

Principal

Amy Bartell was born and raised in Marshal, Texas, and graduated from Texas Tech University in 1980 with a Bachelor of Landscape Architecture. As a leader in the Residential Studio at Studio Outside, Amy coordinates high-end residential projects at all scales. Her experience in residential design has put her in a unique position to usher projects from design to construction. Amy's presence on-site to answer questions for clients and contractors is part of Studio Outside's commitment to design excellence.

In addition to the Residential Studio, Amy serves as the studio's plant specialist. Amy lectured courses on Plant Identification at Montana State University, Oklahoma State University, and Reedley College and has a broad knowledge of woody and herbaceous plants across the United States. She works on ranch projects that integrate and restore native ecosystems.

From design to plant selection to furniture selection, she is engaged and involved in ensuring each garden's best beginning and future.
