

MIKE FRAZEE

ASLA | Principal / Partner

As one of the founding principals of Studio Outside, Mike Frazee has dedicated his career to the creation of meaningful landscapes and environmental spaces. As a father to four children, Mike dedicated a large portion of his career to creating parks and educational facilities such as nature preserves, camps, conference centers, and retreats. Drawing inspiration from his children and his own childhood, Mike's work creates physical and cognitive bonds between people and nature.

In addition to his environmental work, Mike has expanded Studio Outside's urban living, civic, and institutional portfolio. He develops thoughtful spaces, emphasizing the user experience and interaction while maintaining functionality. His projects celebrate the importance of the individual and community, providing a hierarchy of scales for personal reflection and social gatherings and events.
